Your Guide to Making Higher Education Personal and Purposeful: Insights from Ms. Niharika Sondhi's Interview

Every student's journey is unique, and finding the right path goes far beyond admissions. In an exclusive episode with an Edex Podcast, EdNet's Founder & Director, Ms. Niharika, shares insights on how to guide students in today's fast-changing world.

How do you help students find the right path when every journey is different?

Ms. Niharika was recently featured on Edex, the education portal of The New Indian Express, for an exclusive episode on higher education in India and abroad

She shared insights on guiding students beyond admissions, building clarity and confidence for the future, and helping parents support their child's aspirations without the stress.

Whether you are a parent, student, educator, or professional, you will love the strategies discussed: from dual-credit programs with U.S. universities (offered by EdNet & Marquette University, USA), to tips on crafting standout design portfolios, and even how to decide between a Master's and an MBA.

The episode is packed with fresh perspectives on making education personal and purposeful focused on how to achieve tangible success, not just test scores.

University Fair at Shiv Nadar School: Inspiring Journeys Overseas

An insightful university fair at Shiv Nadar School, Gurugram, brought together U.S. universities and expert panels, guiding students while promoting global education goals. This also marked NACAC's first-ever event in India.

A university fair held recently at Shiv Nadar School, Gurugram, hosted by CEO Ms. Arti Dawar and Principal Mr. Sameer Arora, brought together leading U.S. universities and curious young minds exploring studyabroad opportunities. Highlights included NACAC's first official India event with Mr. Clay Hensley and Mr. Murphy Miller, along with valuable insights from Ms. Ambika Kaul of DPS Society. From thought-provoking sessions to direct conversations with admissions representatives, the fair proved an inspiring step toward supporting students' global aspirations.

Building Bridges: An Engaging Exchange on Higher Education, Research & Global learning with U.S. University Reps

An inspiring evening brought together Ms. Niharika, U.S. university reps and counselors to explore opportunities and strengthen commitments to guiding Indian students aspiring to study abroad

It was an evening filled with enriching conversations about the future of Indian students aspiring to study abroad. Ms. Niharika, engaged with representatives from leading U.S. universities, exploring both the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead. Adrienne Ramsey (Babson College), John Berg (Boston College), Darryl Tynen (Brandeis University), Matthew (Washington University in St. Louis), and Rashmi Anand (Emory University) shared valuable insights that made the discussions truly enriching.

The evening also gave her a wonderful chance to connect with fellow independent counselors. Exchanging perspectives and experiences only deepened her commitment to supporting students on their global journeys. The evening strengthened networks, sparked new ideas, and reminded everyone of the collective role they all play in shaping brighter futures students.

IC3 Conference 2025: Redefining College Counseling & Exploring New Trends in International Education

Ms. Niharika attended the IC3 Conference, engaging with global educators and universities, exploring trends in international education, and celebrating IC3's role in transforming counseling worldwide.

The IC3 Conference, the flagship event of the IC3 Movement that continues to redefine career and college counseling in schools worldwide, was a true success, featuring engaging breakout sessions, thoughtful networking breaks, and warm hospitality. Ms. Niharika attended the conference, taking part in its dynamic sessions and connecting with peers and experts from around the world.

Kudos to Mr. Ganesh Kohli and the entire IC3 team for pulling off such a flawless event! For Ms. Niharika, the highlight was connecting with high school counselors and university representatives from across the globe. The conversations were insightful, offering fresh perspectives on opportunities and trends shaping international education. She looks forward to being part of many more such inspiring gatherings in India.

Master's or MBA? Insights from EdNet's Exclusive Webinar: Real Stories, Real Choices & Alumni Speak

Ms. Niharika hosted a webinar on 'Master's or MBA', featuring alumni insights, exploring eligibility, ROI, emerging fields, and Al's impact on global career opportunities.

Ms. Niharika, recently hosted a webinar for students and professionals exploring their next step in higher education. The session tackled the thought-provoking question: Master's or MBA? and shed light on crucial factors such as eligibility, global opportunities, ROI versus ROE (return on investment vs return on experience), emerging fields, bridge programs, and the growing influence of AI on future careers.

What made this session truly stand out was the presence of two accomplished EdNet alumni. Soumya Gupta, an MBA student from University of Oxford, and Shivam Verma, a student of MFAB program at the Indian School of Business (ISB), shared their personal journeys. Their first-hand accounts of decisions, challenges, and opportunities brought the discussion to life, offering participants authentic insights into navigating the Master's vs. MBA dilemma.

Indian Students, This is Your Moment! EdNet Consultants & Marquette University Bring You A Golden Opportunity

Saish Khanna

From:- Vivek High School, Chandigarh Accepted in: USF & UMass Boston In Grade 10, I struggled with math so dropped it in Grade 11. Later, I realized it was vital for business management programs abroad. I sought guidance from EdNet and took CALCULUS 1001, a four-credit course from Marquette University, thereby eliciting offers from top universities like USF and UMass, Boston.

Studying abroad was my dream, but I lacked the credits for PhD applications. My courses did not meet the requirements. At EdNet I was advised to pursue Marquette Credit Courses. My efforts paid off when I received acceptance letters from top U.S. universities.

Anushree

PhD Student Accepted in Washington University in St. Louis

Prakarsh Jain

From:- New York University Accepted in Indiana University Bloomington, NUS When I started my application process, I realized that business programs required a strong foundation in math, something my bachelor's did not cover. I reached out to EdNet, who recommended a 4-credit Calculus course from Marquette University, which turned out to be exactly what I needed.
