

THE LEARNING LENS

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Two decades ago, inspired by a passion to transform education in India and empower students to achieve their academic and career goals, I founded EdNet. Interacting with students lacking access to information and financial aid sparked my drive. One memorable moment was when in 2006 a determined high school student from Delhi Public School RK Puram, despite facing financial challenges, sought guidance for higher education. This experience kindled a desire within me, leading EdNet to become a platform supporting students like her, offering resources and insightful guidance to help realize their dreams. Months of dedicated efforts resulted in a life-changing moment: she received financial aid and admission to Yale University. This further strengthened EdNet's mission to empower students.

Nearly twenty years later, I'm immensely proud of EdNet's impact on thousands of students through 'EdNet Consultants' and 'EdNet School of Art and Design'. Our comprehensive student support services, aiding in college selection and academic success, coupled with school visits to over 400+ global universities and memberships in esteemed organizations like IACAC and NACAC affirm our commitment to providing top-notch educational opportunities. My journey continues with a steadfast vision to facilitating access to top universities globally and equipping students with tools for success. My success stories reflect the impact of passion, dedication, and steadfast commitment to empowering students.

INSPIRING FUTURES

A Glimpse into EdNet's Spectrum of Educational Triumphs, Collaborations, and Progressive Journeys

EDNET'S JOURNEY

2002

Niharika Sondhi established EdNet Consultants with a clear mission - to guide students in realizing their educational dreams. Under her leadership, EdNet Consultants has become a beacon of support for students seeking success in their educational pursuits.

2004

The inauguration of the EdNet School of Art and Design was a realization of Niharika's visionary approach to education. Recognizing the evolving landscape of college admissions, she understood the crucial role of compelling portfolios in securing a spot in prestigious institutions. She envisioned a school that goes beyond conventional art education, empowering students to create impactful pieces that resonate with admission committees.

2010

The EdNet Test Prep School was launched to address the critical role of standardized tests in college admissions. This specialized institution focuses on rigorous and effective test preparation equipping students with the skills and strategies necessary for excelling in standardized exams. The school offers a supportive learning environment where students not only master content but also cultivate the confidence and resilience essential for success in high-stakes testing.

2015

The EdNet Okhla branch reflects Niharika's commitment to expanding educational opportunities. This hub for academic enrichment offers diverse programs to support students in achieving their educational goals, showcasing Niharika's dedication to making quality education more accessible and empowering an increasing number of students.

2019

EdNet's Research Initiative for Advanced Learning (ERIAL) was launched to connect high school students with renowned professors globally as well as offer in-house guidance. It is affiliated with international research organizations like the Cambridge Centre for International Research, Lumiere Education, INSPIRIT AI, and IPERC.

2023

Launch of the Explorer Program in collaboration with Marquette University, USA opening the door to students for dual enrollment and boosting their eligibility for university admissions. High school, gap year and 1st year undergrad students can enroll in 32 Marquette courses, earn US credits, and take up to 11 credits per semester.

Dale Nunes

Accepted in: Marquette University & Junior Year UMass Amherst - 2023

I completed my pre-med requirements by studying EdNet's Biology 1 & 2 credit courses in the evenings. This not only saved time and money but also enhanced my scholarship eligibility. I'm proud to have received a $20,500 annual scholarship from Marquette University. I strongly encourage fellow students to seize this opportunity.

Sudiksha Khemka

Accepted in: University of Illinois Urbana Champaign - 2023

I'm committed to studying how nutrients impact the body and aim to become a seasoned nutritionist, dedicated to improving health and well-being. Enrolling in the Biology 1 credit course enhanced my academic credentials, providing an extra edge in my applications and also familiarized me with future syllabi.

Muskaan Gupta

Accepted in: Columbia University - 2023

Aiming to major in Behavioral Economics and with a strong interest in psychology, I studied Psychology credit course. Eager to delve into complexities of human mind and factors influencing consumer decision-making, these credit courses helped me get a competitive advantage among my peers.

Jasgun Singh Tuli

Accepted in: Michigan State University & Stony Brook University - 2023

Studying Marquette's Calculus 1 through EdNet proved to be a game-changer. The flexibility of online learning allowed me to balance my schedule effectively & its transferable credits significantly enhanced my academic profile. Marquette's courses are ideal for a holistic learning experience and I would recommend them to everyone.
